No problem Laura.

By copy of this email I am forwarding your comments on to counsel.
 Now, once these changes have been incorporated, would you say that this application would be ready to file?

Many Thanks

Please accept my apologies for being so tardy in my response.....

I have read the entire document and only have a few comments:

- whenever "Raw MICR" or "Express MICR" formats are used we should replace with "Perfect Parsing" -- this has been service marked and we can't use the "Express MICR" title anymore since it is too close to another company's trade-marked "MICR Express"
- On page 6, a recent change to the document added the phrase "also referred to herein as converted" -- I think this statement should be deleted
- On page 19, a recent change under the second bullet for using the Decisioning Table, the statement should say that the after the database is used to determine eligible and ineligible items the customer sends "the full micr line, amount, and customer reference number to the financial institution facility, which then performs enhanced (don't mention NACHA formatted file)

Everything else looks great!
